Hi Jeff,

We've received several emails and phone calls today and over the weekend asking for our insight and position given controversy surrounding NAGLREP. I'm reaching out to simply fact check some of the comments we've been receiving. I believe these started based on comments made on Facebook regarding COVID-19. Please advise:

- Financial instability of NAGLREP
- Uncertainty regarding 501 status
- Mismanagement of funds

Please note, if this was one or two inquiries, we would not be bothering you with this, but we are getting a noticeable amount of questions.

We look forward to your feedback.

Katelyn

Complete nonsense and lies. A few members didn't like one of my facebook posts, and I told them if they don't like democracy and differing views from their fear of the coronavirus, they can keep their views to themselves. If this is someones game, then it's rude. I would like to know where you heard this please.

Hi Jeff,

Thank you for your response. It's been from 5 different contacts thus far within our network. They are coming from a place of concern and want to ensure that our partnership remains solid, as well as the organization itself.

A pleasure. You may prefer to visit my personal facebook page and see my post. I have nothing to hide. I went to a doctor and the doctor and his staff were not wearing face masks... so i posted I'm glad to be around people who know science.

Some people liked, some didn't like. For some who didn't like to now come around with these lies, it's really weak. Really weak. They should go on with their lives and get to work.

I can promise you I will not be posting anything else related to Covid because the people who "bought into" staying at home to stay safe, are really emotionally very unstable at this point. It's sad.

Call me anytime to discuss if you prefer 561-713-4924
